

Progressing Your Irish Research Online

Course Book List

Students often ask us for suggested additional reading for our courses. For most of our courses any additional reading is up to you. For our Intermediate and Advanced Certificates courses, students generally attain higher marks when demonstrating evidence of additional reading and there are some compulsory texts for our Advanced Certificate courses.

Here is some optional further reading for this course, in the form of books that you may want to source before your course starts. There may be additional reading material referenced in the course notes. Note that some of these publications may no longer be in print, but can sometimes be found available from second hand book sellers online, or available to borrow from public libraries.

- Bardon, Jonathan. A Guide to Local History Sources in the Public Record Office of Northern Ireland. Belfast: Blackstaff Press, 2000.
- Donnelly, William. General Alphabetical Index to the Townlands and Towns, Parishes and Baronies of Ireland, Based on the Census for the Year 1851. Dublin: HMSO, 1861; reprinted Baltimore: Genealogical Publishing Company, 2006.
- Grenham, John. Tracing Your Irish Ancestors (5th edition). Baltimore: Genealogical Publishing Company, 2019.
- McGee, Frances. The Archives of the Valuation of Ireland 1830-1865. Dublin: Four Courts Press, 2018.
- Mitchell, Brian. A New Genealogical Atlas of Ireland (2nd ed). Baltimore: Genealogical Publishing Company, 2002.
- Paton, Chris. Tracing Your Belfast Ancestry. Barnsley, Yorkshire: Pen and Sword, 2023.

- Paton, Chris. Tracing Your Irish Family History on the Internet (2nd edition). Barnsley, Yorkshire: Pen and Sword, 2019.
- Paton, Chris. Tracing Your Irish Ancestors Through Land Records. Barnsley, Yorkshire: Pen and Sword, 2021.
- Roulston, William J. Researching Scots-Irish Ancestors. Belfast: Ulster Historical Foundation, 2018.
- Roulston, William J. Researching Presbyterian Ancestors in Ireland. Belfast: Ulster Historical Foundation, 2020.
- Ryan, James G. Irish Church Records (New Edition). Dublin: Flyleaf Press, 2001.